Imagine you have 6 hours to spend together. What would you do?

Think about something that's hard for this person. How would you like to make things easier?
What makes this person beautiful to you?
Why do you love this person?
If you could give this person anything in the world, what would it be?
What's a beautiful memory you have of this person? What makes that memory stand out?

Prepared with love by

www.jessicahiemstra.ca